Annual Persian Parade Fashion Show

T

The Annual NY Persian Parade Fashion Show was held recently at Neiman Marcus in New Jersey. The event was organized in order to raise money for the March 20, 2005 Parade. Fashion designers such as Chanel, Prada, Bergoma, Tahari, Jackie Jon, Zanand Ferragamo featured their couture line of clothing and the entertainment was the Saamizadeh Group from L.A.

The NY Persian Parade Inc. was officially initiated on New York City's Madison Avenue March 27, 2004 and has now become an annual event coinciding with the coming of Nowruz, the Persian New Year. The Parade is an effective platform to enhance community's moral image and unity and to showcase to the world the cultural, humanitarian, and literary contributions of the diverse ethnicity of the people of Iran. To overcome the pre-conceived notion for the difficulty of Iranian-American people respected for their own personal, religious, or political beliefs- to successful work together on a cultural and historical event that unites us all. This event is a non-political purely a cultural activity arranged by our non-profit organization.
