

The Museum of the Moving Image Salutes Tom Cruise

Photos by: ©Patrick McMullan. All Rights Reserved

Story by: Sara Herbert-Galloway

The Museum of the Moving Image held its 23rd annual gala at Cipriani's 42nd Street. It was a spectacular sold out event. The impressive room was a buzz with some of Hollywood's most acclaimed actors, directors, and producers mingled with New York Society. Everyone gathered to honor Tom Cruise for his unprecedented career and achievements.

Herbert S. Schlosser, Chairman of the Museum and Rochelle Slovin, Museum Director commented, "Tom Cruise is simply the most enduring movie star of his generation. His first movie role was in 1981, the year the Museum was founded."

Tom, with his beautiful wife Katie by his side, lit up the room with his smile and graciousness, greeting and speaking with as many guests as he possibly could.

Integrity and civility are more than words to Tom. They are his way of life. He constantly challenges himself. Tom spoke with a passion for his life, his relationships, and his craft stating, "Movies are the magic carpet where one can transcend to the depths of their imagination." Tom is now taking on a new role as film studio executive, with his business partner, United Artist CEO Paula Wagner. For more information please visit: www.movingimage.us.

Museum of the Moving Image Board Chairman, Herbert S. Schlosser and Tom Cruise

Brian Grazer and Ron Howard

Ellen Barkin and Julianne Moore

Coralie Charriol Paul and Oliver Stone

Kenneth Branagh

Tommy Tune, Liz Smith, Mort Janklow, Linda Janklow and Barbara Walters

Katie Holmes and Tom Cruise