Errol Rappaport

The stars are shimmering brightly on the west coast promoting and supporting favorite charities during these eventful times. With the world exploding before our very eyes, there never ceases to be worthwhile causes abetted by amazingly committed people.

The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra is devoted to bringing peace and cultural understanding to countries throughout the world by way of music.

The Carousel of Hope Ball recently celebrated its 15th event. Held every two years and hosted by Marvin and Barbara Davis, this world premiere gala benefiting childhood diabetes, has raised close to $60 million since its inception, opening the doors to a normal childhood for many.

The Los Angeles Consular Corps Annual Holiday Ball - The diplomats from 88 countries, who are posted in Los Angeles, raise money for a local charity as a way of giving back to the community. The Consular Corps promotes international business, tourism and cultural exchanges throughout Los county and the Western United States to increase international understanding and cultural awareness.

Friends of Israeli Disabled Veterans - More than 5,200 Israeli soldier and civilians have been injured since September 2000 and at least 750 Israelis were killed, in over 10,000 terrorist attacks.

The Oscar De La Hoya Foundation was created in 1995 to provide athletic and educational opportunities to the children of East Los Angeles emphasizing self-esteem and success through dedicated hard work. The foundation is committed to guiding young people toward leading positive lives

I congratulate and salute them all.
