

Society's Significant Soirees

Elaine Sargent and National Arts Club president Aldon James attended the opening of Rosalyn Engelman's 'Soul Memories.' Photo: Aldon James and Elaine Sargent Credit: PMc

BOMB magazine celebrated its 28th anniversary where trustee Michele Gerber Klein, who was dressed by Christian Cota, led the applause for honorees Lou Reed and Laurie Anderson. Photo: Alice Judelson & Michele Gerber Klein Credit: PMc

Tory Burch and Lisa Jackson attended the opening of the Oak Room at The Plaza. Photo: Lisa Jackson and Tory Burch Credit: PMc

Rona Landsman launched Inspired her furniture line at a party for Furnish A Future at Lampworks. Photo: Rona Landman and Dr. Kevin Plancher Credit: Matt Metossian

Michele Herbert invited pals from around the world to a 3-day celebration for her husband Larry's 80th birthday in Palm Beach. Event planner Harriette Rose Katz orchestrated the unforgettable weekend that still has people talking. Photo: Harriette Rose Katz Credit: Matt Metossian

Harry Slatkin was given the Golden Heart Award by God's Love We Deliver where guests included Vera Wang, Anna Wintour, and Martha Stewart. Photo: Harry Slatkin and Vera Wang Credit: PMc

Interior designers Tony Ingrao and Randy Kemper attended a launch party for Miami Art Basel at the Fontainebleau. Photo: Cynthia Clift, Tony Ingrao, Carmindy Credit: PMc

The Jeffrey Modell Foundation held their annual Spring Ahead Gala honoring 10 month old Severe Combined Immunodeficiency survivor Dawson Bornheimer. Photo: Vicki & Fred Modell with Dawson Bornheimer Credit: Fred Marcus Photography