

New York Observer's 100 Most Powerful in Real Estate

Photos by: Joe Fornabaio

A crowd of approximately 2,256 prospective homebuyers, real estate brokers, and developers attended the highly anticipated New York Condos Showcase in Soho's historic Puck Building, hosted by the New York Observer. The event was so successful and well received that The Observer has announced that they will host a second New York Condos Showcase this fall ('08).

The New York Observer was founded by Arthur L. Carter in 1987 and purchased by Jared Kushner in 2006. As publisher, Kushner is currently using a multi-media platform to develop the Observer brand into a dynamic 21st century media entity, including the recently launched redesign of the Observer website www.observer.com.

Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Governor Paterson and Jared Kushner

Jonathan Tisch and Lizzie Rudnick

Jerry Speyer, Amanda Burden and Deputy Mayor Robert C. Lieber

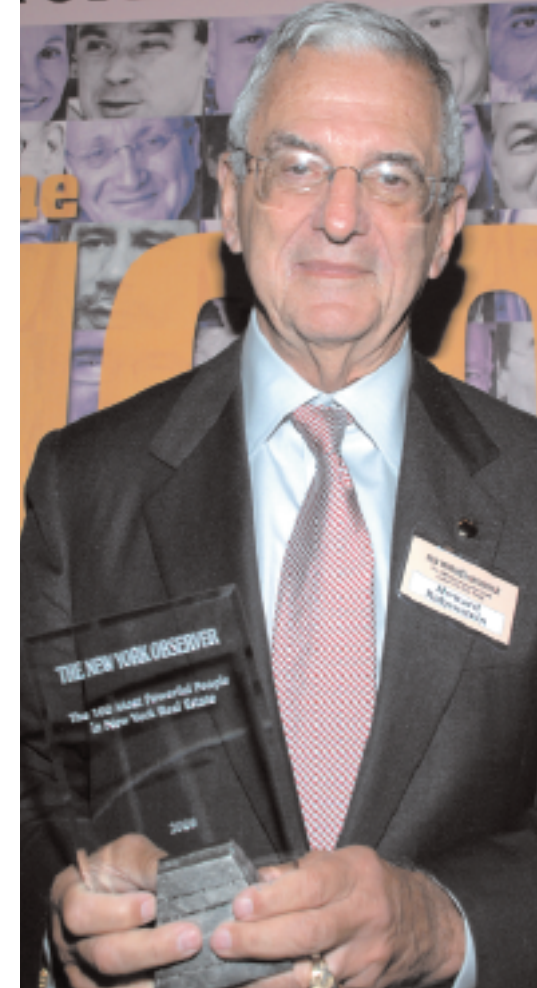

Jim Moran, Alexandra Mitchell and Paul Newman

Steve Goldberg and Peter Kaplan

Mort Zuckerman, Donald Marron and Jerry Speyer

Howard Rubenstein

Arthur Zeckendorf

Steven Spinola