

Leading the Way to Wall Street's New Era

By James Capasso & Michael Margiotta

Everyday the world's pulse beats faster. Communications occur at the speed of light as our lives blink by us. Our way of life is constantly challenged by an accelerating pace. Nowhere is this new way of life more evident than in the planning of our financial security. As investors scramble to keep up, there are some that consistently expand their horizons, and continue to think outside of the box. Thomas Guerriero is one of the few perpetually ahead of the curve. His unique investing philosophies have enabled him to create opportunities exclusively customized to each of his clients.

"I believe the most successful people in this industry are the ones that refuse to be satisfied. And are willing to go that extra mile to set a new standard of excellence" Thomas said. "The goal of my investment strategies has been to be proactive when it comes to bringing ideas to my clients, to achieve and maximize their investment potential. We are determined to offer them the best opportunities in the world, no matter what avenue."

"I believe the most successful people in this industry are the ones that refuse to be satisfied. And are willing to go that extra mile to set a new standard of excellence"

Thomas Guerriero is the founder and CEO of JT Anthony & Company. He has created a specialized "boutique" style consulting firm, on Wall Street, that provides customized and focused consulting on investing strategies worldwide. These strategies are geared for a select class of high net worth individuals. In utilizing his countless sources of information, Thomas Guerriero and his team of Investment Solution Strategists excel in evaluating and arranging the best possible investment strategies for their clients. They offer consulting services in a multitude of arenas, tailored to each individual's investment goals. "No matter what the forum, I put my clients at the table with the people who can help them the most," said Thomas.

Mindful that the market environment is forever changing, Thomas Guerriero strives to keep his business model continually adapting to remain consistently ahead of the curve. In his early days, as the Senior VP of Investments of First Union Securities, he established his reputation as one of the most dedicated, hardworking, and successful people on Wall Street. Soon after the merger between First Union & Wachovia, he became the CEO of the RCG Financial in Sydney, Australia, specializing in international banking and finance. Currently, his is holding the position of Senior VP of Investments of the private "boutique" firm Friedman Schnaier & Associates who provide securities through Aura Financial Services, Inc. a Member of the SEPC & NASD..

Aware that his philosophies are new to the investment community, Thomas Guerriero offers free portfolio evaluations, comprehensive investment analysis and is available upon request for guest speaking. He and his team of Investment Solution Strategist are also available for private evaluations as well as conventions and seminars. To arrange an appointment of any such services, JT Anthony & Company is located at 44 Wall St, New York, and can be reached by phone at (212) 461-7188 or e-mail at jtanthony@jtanthony.net.

Copyright © 2005 JT Anthony & Company. All rights reserved

Thomas Anthony Guerriero CEO of Thomas and Anthony and Company Photo by Andrea

"Now bringing together all the knowledge, experience, and contacts I have acquired over my years in the business, I can bring my clients a unique service that is unmatched anywhere in the World."

JT Anthony & Company
44 Wall Street, 12 Floor New York, NY 10005
Phone: 212-461-7188
Fax: 866-300-0977
www.jtanthony.net
email: jtanthony@jtanthony.net